Let's Start!

Vanessa has a new life! And a new routine!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- What activities are part of your usual routine?
- When do your routines change? Why do they change?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about daily routines.
- I can express necessity or obligation.
- I can express possibility and expectation.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa talks about her schedule with her Aunt Nelly.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Aunt Nelly: What's your schedule like now, dear?
Vanessa: I have to wake up at 7:00 because I should be in school by 9 every day. I can't be late for class. I'm in class until 3:00 in the afternoon.
Aunt Nelly: When can I expect you home for dinner?
Vanessa: I do my homework at the library. I should be home by 6.
Aunt Nelly: That sounds good. Don't skip any classes!
Vanessa: Of course not! I must attend all classes. Attendance is mandatory.
Aunt Nelly: What's your first unit?
Vanessa: It's on Italian food.
Aunt Nelly: I love Italian food. I could prepare a pasta dish tonight.
Vanessa: Or I could make you pasta to practice!
Aunt Nelly: I could invite your teacher to try it!
Vanessa: No thanks!

Let's Practice!

Vanessa is obliged to do some things. Other things are expected.

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Write each word in the correct order.

1. up / wake / must / I / 7:00 / at / .

2. classes / I / attend / have / all / to / .

3. late / can't / for / I / be / class / .

4. by / day / should / in / I / school / 9 / be / every / .

Let's Practice!

Vanessa and Aunt Nelly talk about daily schedules. Are they talking about possibilities or expectations?

Instructions: Write the sentences in the correct category.

- I should be in school by 9 every day.
- I should be home by six.
- I could prepare a pasta dish tonight.
- I could invite your teacher to try it!
- I could make you pasta to practice!

Expectation	Possibility

Extension Activity

What's your routine? Compare your daily routines with a partner.

Learning Points

Talking About Daily Routines

Daily routines are things you do every day.

When you talk about daily routines, you use the Present Tense and a preposition of time like at, until, by and from ... to.

You use expressions of time like On Saturdays ... to say that you do things on a regular basis.

Preposition or Expression of Time	Use	Example
at	a specific time	I wake up at 7:00 a.m.
until	a period of time leading up to a specific time	I'm in class until 3:00 in the afternoon.
by	at or before	I should be home by 6:00. from ... to	the beginning and ending time of an activity	I have classes from 9:00 to 3:00 every day.
on (Saturdays) ...	on the same day of the week	I don't have classes on Saturdays.

Learning Points

Modals Should, Could, Have to, Must

You use the modals should and could to give recommendations or advice.

You can use could and should to show a recommendation -- what is recommendable.

You can use could to show possibility -- what is possible.

You can use should to show expectation -- what is expected.

The modals must and have to show necessity or obligation.

Meaning	Example
Recommendation	You should make lasagna tonight.
Recommendation	I could make pasta.
Recommendation	We could go to a concert this weekend.
Expectation	I should be in school by 9 every day.
Obligation	I have to wake up at 7:00 a.m. tomorrow.
Obligation	I must arrive on time tomorrow.
