Let's Start!

This is your captain speaking!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Have you been on an airplane? Where did you go?
- What words do you expect to hear in an airplane?

Can Do Statements

- I can give simple instructions.
- I can talk about travel and transportation.
- I can tell someone where something is located.

Let's Explore!

The captain is making an announcement. What does he say?

* "Announcement" is a noun. It comes from the verb to announce.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. This is your pilot, Captain Ferguson, speaking on behalf of the crew. We are now flying over the Alps. As you know, the Alps are the highest mountains in Europe. If you are planning on a ski trip, you're in luck. You can see that many peaks have a lot of snow.

We're beginning our descent into Geneva. The temperature on the ground is presently 23 degrees Fahrenheit or -5 degrees Celsius.

Please return to your seat. Verify that all carry-on luggage is secure. Store your bags under your seat or in the overhead compartment above your head. Fasten your seatbelts around your waist and place your seat in the upright position.

Let's Practice!

What are the captain's instructions?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|-----------|---|
| 1. Place | a. to your seat. |
| 2. Fasten | b. that all carry-on luggage is secure. |
| 3. Verify | c. your bags under your seat. |
| 4. Return | d. your seatbelts. |
| 5. Store | e. your seat in the upright position. |

Let's Practice!

Let's look at the captain's instructions again.

Instructions: Select all the correct answers.

- Select the sentences that correctly use a preposition of place.
 - The temperature on the ground is -5 degrees Celsius.
 - Store you carry-on luggage under your seat.
 - Place your bags in the overhead compartments.
 - Use the compartments on your head.
 - Fasten your seatbelts in your waist.

Extension Activity

You are the pilot of an airplane in the year 2050.

Imperatives on an Airplane

Imperatives are commands or instructions. You do not use the subject with the verb. When you are on an airplane, you hear many Imperatives. The captain or crew need to tell you what to do.

Here are some common Imperatives you hear on an airplane:

Imperative	Meaning	Example
Fasten	to attach	Fasten your seatbelt.
Return	to go back to	Return to your seat.
Store	to place something in a position	Store your carry-on luggage in the overhead compartment.
Verify	to make sure	Verify your bags are securely stored.
Place	to put	Place your seat in the upright position.

Prepositions of Place

Prepositions of place help explain where something is located. You often hear prepositions of place when you are in an airplane.

Preposition	Meaning	Phrase
on	touching the surface	on the ground
under	below something	under your seat
in	within an enclosed space	in the overhead compartment
above	on top of something but not touching it	above your head
around	going in a circle	around your waist

Examples:

- We are now flying over the Alps. The temperature on the ground is presently 23 degrees Fahrenheit or -5 degrees Celsius. Store bags under your seat or in the overhead compartments above your head.*
